Some of the highlights from the events that we would like to share with you are the following:

Internal Programs

Once again our office partnered with the Chase College of Law to host our Free Food Friday event. Heather Crabbe who is the Outreach Officer from Chase Law School met with students informally to talk about what it takes to go to law school. She was able to dispel some of the myths and make students feel at ease about law school. Chase Law was generous enough to provide the food for this gathering. Heather handed out information and will serve as a contact person when students apply to law school.

On March 5, 2014, the Directors of NKU’s African American Programs and Services, Latino Programs and Services, and LGBTQ Programs and Services, along with a handful of students involved in these offices, joined in on the 50th Anniversary Civil Rights March on Frankfort. The Allied Organization of Civil Rights hosted this March, inviting schools and civil rights groups from all over the Commonwealth of Kentucky to come and show their support. This is a great opportunity for participants to continue to address ongoing civil rights issues. The only way for me to accurately describe it, is to show you what we saw (which is what I did if you click the YouTube link below!), but in a few words, this experience was incredible. Well over a thousand people were in attendance, young kids to people like Sharon Butler, a woman who was in attendance 50 years ago! Though there wasn’t a big enough number as we would have hoped, it definitely was an eye opening experience listening to the progress we’ve made as a committed people, a diverse state, and a freer country for all. Here’s to the next March, hoping you can join us! Link to video http://youtu.be/LnzmRj7nwTA

The Behringer Crawford Museum hosted their fourth annual Two-Headed Calf Banquet and Silent Auction on Saturday, March 8th in the Student Union Ballroom at Northern Kentucky University. Community guests were able to celebrate local honorees which included Ralph Dress for Community Service Award, Jim Reis for the History Award and Rick Hulefeld for the Education Award. Well over 150 people attended this extraordinary event and guests were able to bid on auction items, such as, paintings from local artists, gift certificates, and antiques to benefit the museum. Our students were able to volunteer by helping out with the silent auction, registration, and parking.

We are busy gathering information for the upcoming 2014-2015 Calendar of Events. If you have any ideas or suggestions as to whom we should invite for the National Hispanic Heritage Month Latino Keynote Speaker Series, Fall Latino Student Orientation, academic, cultural or social workshop topics, etc., please let us know. We are also interested in partnering with you on mutual projects that benefit our students. - Leo Calderón, Director of Latino Programs and Services

Latino Mentor Program (LAMP)

Throughout the month of March, LAMP students took part in the following activities:

Job Search Strategies on March 21

Salsa Mixer on March 27

Matt Campbell, from Total Quality Logistics, hosted an event for LAMP students on Job Search Strategies on March 21 from 2-3pm. Nine students attended the event in preparation for their future career search.
Throughout the event, Matt stressed the importance of attending Job Fairs at NKU, as well as, networking through LinkedIn. He also went through the importance of sending “Thank you” letters to employers after the initial interview stage to really set you above the other candidates. 100% of the students felt that the event was helpful and are looking forward to more career related events. Matt will return on April 4th to discuss how to Ace the Interview.

Nine students attended the Salsa Mixer on March 27th led by our very own Maria Rojas. The students were introduced to numerous styles of Latin dance including Salsa, Merengue, and Bachata. First the students were shown some steps for beginners and then they were partnered up with other students to grasp the real salsa experience. One hundred percent of the students recommended having the event again next year and all of the students mentioned that they hoped to have more Latino inspired cultural events in the future. Overall the event was a huge success and we cannot wait to have more Latino inspired events next academic year!

LAMP’s Student of the Month for April is Bryant Picazo. Bryant is majoring in Finance and a first year student here at NKU. He is an Associate Member of Alpha Psi Lambda Psi chapter, part of the Professional Business Leaders, and the Latino Mentor Program. Bryant is proud to say that he is the first one in his family to go to college and the only son in his family. He would like his peers to remember to “Follow your dreams no matter how crazy they might seem and challenge yourself to become better”. Mayra Guzman nominated Bryant and said that he is doing great getting involved on campus little by little. She is really happy to see that he has “attended most of the LAMP and LPS events and encourages others to go! I am sure he is going to be a great leader!”

Thanks Mayra, we think Bryant is an excellent choice for our Student of the Month!
